

COLONIAL HEIGHTS
POLICE DEPARTMENT

2010

ANNUAL REPORT

Mission Statement

The mission of the Colonial Heights Police Department is to protect the life, individual liberty and property of all people within the City of Colonial Heights, to develop and actively pursue a positive relationship with members of the community and to foster a positive working environment for members of the Colonial Heights Police Department.

Department History

In September 1926, Colonial Heights was established as a town, having originally been a part of Chesterfield County and the City of Petersburg.

The first Colonial Heights law enforcement officer was a Town Sergeant who relied upon the assistance of the Chesterfield County and City of Petersburg Police Departments.

The first full-time police officer was Officer Brown, who came to Colonial Heights from the Chesterfield County Police Department. Then Mayor Shepard served as the town's first Police Chief and Magistrate. The first police department office was established in 1931 at what is now the Colonial Heights School Board building.

During the 1930's and 1940's, two police officers were on duty to protect the town. One officer was assigned to the day shift while the second officer worked at night. At times when Old Town Creek threatened to flood U.S. Route 1/301, the officers divided the town, one patrolling north, and the second patrolling south of the creek.

Department History

In 1948, Colonial Heights changed from a town status to a Second Class City, having a population under 5,000 residents.

On Christmas Eve, 1948, Officer Kurt Mason died in the line of duty. Officer Mason died as the result of a motor vehicle crash occurring at the intersection of Boulevard and Ellerslie Avenue. Officer Mason was attempting to catch a speeder when he died.

In 1956, the police department relocated to the new City Hall building located on James Avenue. In the 1970's, the police department moved to the basement of the courthouse, located on Temple Avenue. In 2001, the department was relocated to the newly established Public Safety Building in what was once City Hall.

First established as a town and now a First Class City, Colonial Heights has been served by six police chiefs. Today, the Colonial Heights Police Department has a sworn strength of 50 men and women.

Message from the Chief

On behalf of the employees and volunteers of the Colonial Heights Police Department, I am pleased to present our 2010 Annual Report. I believe this report accurately reflects the activity of our department throughout the year. As always, we continue to stand ready to serve our residents and visitors with integrity and commitment. I am excited about what the future holds for our agency and our City. Our residents are continually encouraged to participate in our efforts to make the City of Colonial Heights a safer and better place to live, work and visit.

In this report, several accomplishments have been listed for your review. It is our hope that you will see that the Colonial Heights Police Department does not take for granted their reputation as a top quality service and community-oriented police department. Our reputation in these areas is defined by the people we serve. The officers of the Colonial Heights Police Department are an essential part of the community through the many programs and events that we participate in such as D.A.R.E., Project Lifesaver, Cops and Lobsters, Celebrate Safe Communities Night, the Special Olympics Torch Run, and many others.

We appreciate a supportive community and our city leaders who have confidence in our ability to provide the highest level of police service. The working relationship between our agency, the schools and our community is strong and continues to flourish every year. I am also very grateful for our “team” within the Colonial Heights Police Department and value the efforts of each and every police department employee who makes our City a great place to live.

In closing, each day that goes by I feel it is an honor to lead this agency.

With sincere thanks,

Colonel Jeffrey W. Faries
Chief of Police

Accreditation

The department is seeking accreditation through the Virginia Law Enforcement Professional Standards Commission. In 2010, the department continued the “self-assessment” phase of this process.

Accreditation is a voluntary process whereby the department is systematically measured and evaluated to make sure it meets the professional standards set forth by the Virginia Law Enforcement Professional Standards Commission.

State accreditation is the best measure of an agency's compliance with professional law enforcement standards, as determined by the Virginia Law Enforcement Professional Standards Commission. The Commission consists of Virginia sheriffs and police chiefs selected for their expertise and knowledge. Adherence to an acknowledged body of professional standards may help protect an agency against a variety of potential liability problems.

Lieutenant William Anspach is responsible for the process which will continue in 2011 with a “mock” assessment scheduled for December.

Employee Recognition

Officers of the Month

Each month, the Colonial Heights Police Department recognizes one of its employees for exceptional performance. Employees who have demonstrated performance above and beyond the call of duty are nominated by their peers and supervisors. The Chief of Police, aided by his Command Staff, selects an officer from the nominations to be honored for his or her dedication and performance during that month.

Employee Recognition

Officers of the Month

January

Senior Officer Sophie Benkendorf

During the month of December, 2009, Officer Benkendorf received contents of a wallet found in the city. Using traditional methods, Officer Benkendorf was unable to locate the owner. However, a search on Facebook revealed the owner's location. Upon contacting the owner, a Ms. Jacquelyn Tuggle, Officer Benkendorf discovered that additional items were missing. Officer Benkendorf called the person who found the items to get an exact location where they were discovered. She went to said location, where she asked Public Works staff for their assistance in removing a manhole cover. After a search of the storm drain, the additional missing items were located, including a social security card and military identification card.

Ms. Tuggle was very grateful for Officer Benkendorf's willingness to go well beyond what was required to locate both the property and property owner. By going the extra mile in this case, Sophie not only rendered superior customer service to a crime victim, but also furthered the Department's positive image within the community and beyond.

February

Senior Officer Renee Walters

In addition to having a productive month issuing multiple traffic citations and working several traffic accidents, Sr. Officer Walters also conducted roll-call training on stalking for two of the shifts after receiving her own training in Williamsburg. Renee' gave a brief overview of the course, as well as provided handouts that she had prepared to aid officers in dealing with this crime. Her presentation of the information was well-prepared, informative and professional. During this past month, Sr. Officer Walters has been called upon by her supervisors to complete several tasks essential to the overall effectiveness of the department, and she completed them all very well.

Employee Recognition

Officers of the Month

March

Officer Kenneth E Bish, Jr.

In addition to having a productive month issuing multiple traffic citations and working several traffic incidents, Officer Bish also worked 10 cases for the month, obtaining 17 misdemeanor warrants, two (2) felony warrants and served 11 outstanding warrants. One of the highlights of his month was a three-day investigation of a break and enter at 518 Highland Avenue, which resulted in the arrest of three juveniles, with the possibility of a fourth juvenile arrest. It seems that the homeowner/victim is a truck driver who is away from home for long periods of time. When his "house sitter" checked on the property recently, he found two juveniles coming out of the house and called police. Officer Bish was able to gain enough information and evidence to place charges on at least three (3) offenders. He was also able to recover the stolen items and notify the owner. Additional charges on the same juveniles included destruction of property at another location on the same street.

April

Officer Roger L. Santini

In February and April of 2009, two employees of businesses in Colonial Heights were victims of armed robberies. Through further investigation, Officer Santini, along with Sgt. Steve Kolev, developed a suspect in the second robbery. Ultimately, they obtained a full confession, leading to an arrest and conviction in court. Several months later, Officer Santini responded to Riverside Regional Jail to interview an inmate who claimed to have information regarding robberies in Colonial Heights. During the interview, the inmate gave details to a robbery that only the suspects or victims would have had. The inmate also implicated the boyfriend of one of the victims. Extensive research of this information resulted in the arrest of the boyfriend, who then implicated yet another third suspect. With all of this information and evidence obtained from both robberies, warrants were obtained and arrests made in both robberies.

Officer Santini's exceptional interview and research skills were paramount to gaining the confessions of two robbery suspects. By researching all information made available throughout the investigation, two armed robberies were cleared, along with the arrest of three suspects.

Officers of the Month

May

Sr. Officer Sophie Benkendorf

Officer Benkendorf is assigned duties as they pertain to crime prevention, including the D.A.R.E. Program. She has been instrumental in assisting Sgt. Rob Ruxer during his transition from a co-supervisory position in Patrol to his current position in Law Enforcement Services, previously held by Lt. Tom Kifer. Sophie spent many hours arranging this year's annual Cops and Lobsters fundraising event at Red Lobster, raising over $2,100.00 for Special Olympics. She continues to participate in the Health Fair at Southpark Mall, and is currently preparing for the annual Special Olympics Torch Run. Besides giving several safety presentations this month, she continues to respond to people who may come into the HQ lobby with special needs. Sophie is a hard worker who genuinely cares about the work she does, and it shows in the results she produces.

June

Sr. Officer Renee Walters

As a Senior Officer, Renee' has stepped up to the plate to provide mentorship to squad officers and assist supervisors. She is a team player who often goes out of her way to assist other officers with special projects and complicated tasks. It is not unusual to see Renee' assisting other officers with compiling paperwork and packaging evidence during lengthy arrests or investigations. Without being asked, she offers her assistance in the processing of daily paperwork and assures that all administrative tasks have been completed.

In addition, Sr. Officer Walters exhibits a willingness to work with other department members during special events such as Cops and Lobsters at Red Lobster and the Torch Run, both benefiting the Special Olympics. She well represents the department, bringing favorable attention to the department's efforts to be a part of the community.

Employee Recognition

Officers of the Month

July

Officers Dan Vilardo & Kenneth Bish

Since the supervision of “C” Squad has been taken over by Lt. Dann Ferguson, an effort toward selective enforcement has been initiated in the City parks, which includes the utilization of the “Mule”. In mid-July, Officer Vilardo and Officer Bish observed four individuals in the back area of White Bank Park, and they detected an odor of marijuana. Upon further investigation, one adult was ultimately arrested for Possession of Marijuana with Intent to Distribute and three counts of Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor. The three juveniles were arrested for Possession of Marijuana.

Overall, Officers Vilardo and Bish have been making a significant contribution to the selective enforcement initiative as well as to the department’s mission of protecting the life, individual liberty and property of all people within the City of Colonial Heights. They are setting the standard that their peers should strive to achieve.

August

Detective William E. Moore, Jr.

While working an extra duty assignment, Sr. Det. Moore responded to an armed robbery at Subway in Southpark Crossings. He was able to locate the suspect vehicle as it was making its getaway from the scene. With great clarity and skill, Sr. Det. Moore articulately transmitted his location, the suspect vehicle information, direction of travel and other pertinent information to all responding officers. Once the fleeing vehicle was stopped near Swaders, both occupants bailed out and initially only one was captured. Det. Moore immediately supervised the setup of a perimeter, resulting in the capture of the second suspect.

Throughout this incident, Det. Moore exhibited courage, initiative and knowledge. Even in a general sense, Bill is a mentor to all members of this department—always willing to lend a helping hand. He consistently contributes to the overall mission of the department through his initiative and hard work.

Employee Recognition

Officers of the Month

September

Officer Thad Johnson

Though Det. Johnson is a new detective within the Investigations Division, he has hit the ground running. He has a wonderfully positive attitude and accepts each new assignment with enthusiasm. Det. Johnson has an outstanding work ethic and is committed to symbolizing the ideals of the department's Mission Statement.

Recently, Det. Johnson received information that a security guard obtained a license plate from a suspect vehicle in a grand larceny case from Victoria's Secret at Chesterfield Town Center. Since the grand larceny was similar to numerous reported larcenies that had occurred at Victoria's Secret in Southpark Mall during the past year, Det. Johnson followed up on the information. As a result of hard work and determination, Det. Johnson identified five suspects and obtained several confessions. Det. Johnson furthered his investigation by obtaining search warrants for two homes in Petersburg, resulting in the location of numerous items of evidence.

This investigation revealed that these suspects were a part of a crime ring that traveled throughout Virginia, as well as other states, committing larcenies of thousands of dollars in merchandise from Victoria's Secret stores. The merchandise would then be sold into the black market in Washington, DC.

Det. Johnson provided his investigative information to other law enforcement agencies and has been working in conjunction with them. Not only did Det. Johnson's hard work on "cold cases" pay off with the arrests of the perpetrators, but also the loss margin at retail establishments, specifically Victoria's Secret, will reduce dramatically

October

Officer Michael Duncan

On October 20, 2010, "B" Squad responded to a report of a robbery at the GameStop on Southpark Boulevard. A description of the suspect and the vehicle was broadcast by Communications, which Sr. Officer Duncan heard as he was working out in the training room. He immediately headed to the area of Hamilton and Temple Avenues, where he noticed a vehicle matching the description of the suspect vehicle heading west on Temple Avenue. Sr. Officer Duncan fell in behind the vehicle and immediately advised Communications of his location and attempted to conduct a vehicle stop. The vehicle sped away and a short pursuit ensued, ending with the suspect crashing into a utility pole on MacArthur Avenue and fleeing on foot towards the Courthouse. With the assistance of the Colonial Height Sheriff's Office, the suspect was apprehended, subsequently admitting to the robbery along with crimes in other jurisdiction. Sr. Officer Duncan's attentiveness and quick actions led to the apprehension of an individual who posed an immediate and serious danger to the public. For his diligence and determination, Mike was presented with two gift certificates to Buffalo Wild Wings Restaurant.

November

Lt. William H. Anspach, III

Sgt. Rob L. Ruxer &

Sgt. Stephanie E. Early

During the month, these three supervisors planned and executed the responses of our personnel, members of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, the Virginia State Police and members of the Alcohol Beverage Control Board regarding the policing of the Hell's Angels book signing event which came to our City on November 14, 2010. The event was attended by an estimated 200-300 Hell's Angels members and affiliates at a local business on the south end of town. What could have been a significant threat to the safety of our citizens was thwarted by the extensive collaboration and preparedness of our local and fellow law enforcement agencies. The effective, competent leadership provided during this entire operation provided a sense of pride within the Department. They were also recognized as the City's "Employee Team of the Month" in Dec.

December

Officer Kenneth E. Bish, Jr.

During the month of December, 2010, Sr. Officer Bish was running radar on Temple Avenue when he pulled over a Dodge Charger for speeding. After issuing a summons to the driver, he took the initiative to go beyond the traffic ticket and developed enough probable cause to search the vehicle's trunk. Upon further investigation, he discovered a box containing approximately 16 pounds of marijuana and obtained incriminating statements from the driver. In addition, he seized four cell phones, one laptop computer and over $1,700.00 in U. S. currency.

Sr. Officer Bish's attentiveness and follow-through led to the arrest of an individual who is clearly a menace to the community. Additionally, his supervisor attests to his calm, efficient and respectful manner when he interacts with the public. He was also noted for being a team player as well as his contributions to the overall success of C Squad and the Department.

- Reduce repetitive calls for service
- Educate the public about its Police Department

Aside from the general philosophies of Community Policing, the Colonial Heights Police Department is involved in the community in many ways.

Safe Pets Program

Many victims at risk of abuse are reluctant to leave their abusive partners and seek help at a shelter if it means leaving their pet behind with the abuser. Making that final decision to leave an abusive partner is a vital one. Public Nuisance Initiative

In order to help facilitate quality of life issues in neighborhoods, the Colonial Heights Police Department began issuing Public Nuisance letters to various property owners in the city in late 2007. The objective of this program is to deter criminal activity in our neighborhoods in order to reduce fear, crime rates and improve the quality of life for the residents in the City of Colonial Heights. Whenever the Police Department makes an arrest for illegal drugs and/or the illegal consumption/use of alcohol at any residential location (to include apartments, duplexes, townhouses and boarding houses), we notify the property owner of the arrest(s).

Colonial Heights Police in the Community

Public Nuisance Initiative

In accordance with state law, once the property owner has been notified, they are responsible for any further activity at their property. After this notification, if the property owner does not take any action to correct the nuisance, they can be held criminally liable for any future arrest(s) pertaining to illegal drugs and alcohol. During the 2010 calendar year, the Police Department issued 29 drug nuisance letters and one alcohol nuisance letter to property owners. In each case, the property owners took appropriate corrective actions to eliminate the ongoing public nuisance problem.

Job Shadow Program

The Colonial Heights Police Department participates annually in the Colonial Heights Schools and Colonial Heights Chamber of Commerce Job Shadow Program.

Students are given an opportunity to see employees at work and receive hands-on training in forensics. Students also have an opportunity to ride with officers on patrol and observe law enforcement first-hand.

Take 25 Program

A program of the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children, Take 25 aims to heighten awareness of children's personal safety issues. With a focus on prevention, the campaign encourages parents, guardians, and other role models to spend time talking to kids to teach them ways to be safer.

In 2010, the Colonial Heights Police Department partnered with the Colonial Heights School Board to distribute information about the Take 25 program. In an effort to encourage parents to make time to talk about child safety, educational literature was distributed to all parents of school-age children in the City encouraging them to Take 25.

Traffic Calming

In 2007, the department introduced a Traffic Calming Program. The goals and objectives of the program are:

- Create safer and more appealing streets
- Reduce collision frequency and severity
- Help reduce the negative effects of motorized vehicles on neighborhoods
- Reduce speeds of vehicles traveling faster than the posted speed limit
- Improve the real and perceived safety for non-motorized users of the street
- Reduce volume of traffic using the neighborhood as a cut-through

Colonial Heights Police in the Community

Traffic Calming

The Traffic Calming Program Consists of Six Phases

Phase #1

A request is received from a concerned citizen detailing the traffic concerns.

Phase #2

Speed pads are set up on the street in question for a period of up to one week to collect data.

Phase #3

Data is downloaded to see if a speeding problem does exist. For there to be a speeding problem, 85th percentile speed must exceed seven mph over the posted speed limit

Colonial Heights Police in the Community

Traffic Calming

Phase #4

If a speeding problem is not found, information collected will be forwarded to the complaining citizen. If a speeding problem does exist, the speed trailer will be set up on that street for a period of up to one week to educate the motorists in that area.

Phase #5

At the end of the one week, the speed pads will again be set up to collect data. If a speeding problem continues to exist, strict traffic enforcement will commence for a period of up to two weeks. Information obtained through data collection will help determine peak times for enforcement. Signs indicating "ZERO TOLERANCE" will also be posted on the street during this time.

Phase #6

At the end of the two-week enforcement period, the speed pads will again be set out to collect data to see if the problem has been corrected.

Crime Solvers

Chesterfield County/Colonial Heights Crime Solvers, Inc., is a community involvement program created to help stop crime in its tracks. All tips are anonymous (we do not have caller ID!) and cash rewards are paid (up to $1,000) for clues that are vital in the successful solution of a crime.

The Police Department, in partnership with the Commonwealth's Attorney's Victim Witness Program, Colonial Heights Counseling Services, Office on Youth and Human Services, and The James House, formed the R.E.A.C.T. program in Colonial Heights.

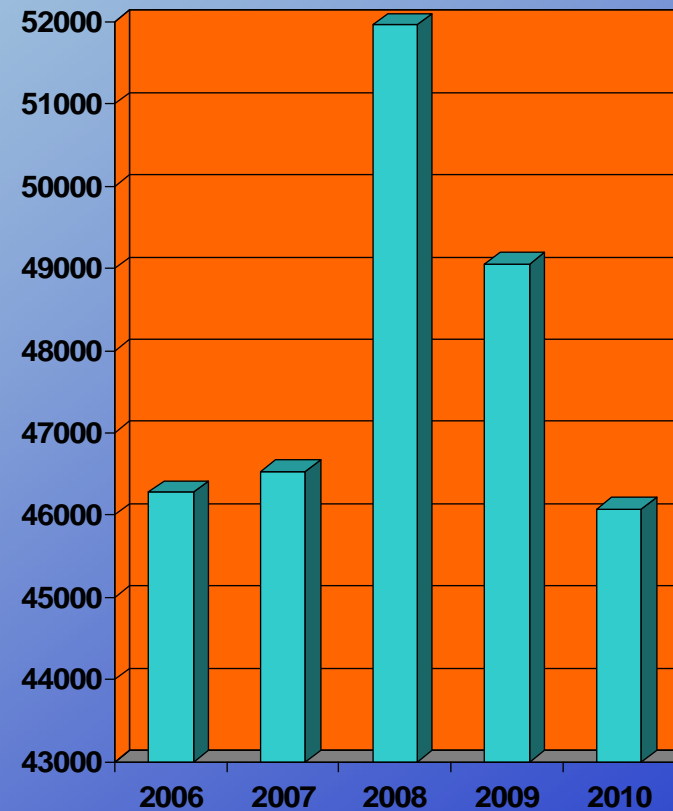

R.E.A.C.T. is a partnership among agencies that are advocates for children involved in domestic violence issues. Partner programs provide support to the child and family.
