WHAT ARE OUR OPTIONS?

Increase Personal Property Tax Relief (PPTR)

- Would only benefit vehicles that qualify for PPTR.
- Not uniform.
- Would have to be funded by the City.

WHAT ARE OUR OPTIONS?

Change NADA valuation factor (Currently Clean Trade-In)

- Would amount to only a moderate adjustment in value – not enough to offset increases.

WHAT ARE OUR OPTIONS?

Implement assessment ratio - i.e. assess vehicles at something less than 100% of value (allowed in 58.1-3503[B])

- Cumbersome - Tax software would not handle this very well; High mileage and other adjustments would need to be performed manually; Tricky to balance PPTR;
- Vehicles not found in NADA are typically assessed according to a depreciating percentage of original cost – so values are not increasing. These would benefit even further b/c new value would be a percentage of a percentage. Not fair.

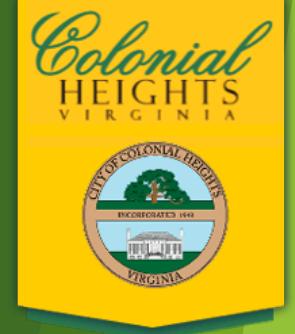

WHAT ARE OUR OPTIONS?

Lower the tax rate.

- Problem - Under current law, the rate on most passenger vehicles cannot be lower than general class of personal property (think business tangibles, machinery & tools) – so if you lower it for those, you have to lower it for everything;
- Solution – HB1239 and SB771 – These create a new class of tangible personal property for rate purposes for passenger cars and trucks (and motorcycles).
